

EMBA

The Executive MBA is a professional degree, and we redesigned the application process to reflect the experience of applying for a job. We value your work experience and the perspective you will bring into the classroom. As such, we only ask for your updated resume or LinkedIn profile to start your application.

Application Process

1. Resume or LinkedIn Profile. This information officially starts your application.
2. Unofficial Transcripts. Send your unofficial transcripts. We will need official transcripts from all universities you attended prior to starting classes but only need unofficial copies for application review. You can send transcripts after your resume, since we realize applicants do not always have immediate access to transcripts (unofficial or otherwise).
3. Case Interview. After doing an initial review of your resume and transcripts, we will invite you to a case interview. Three days prior to the interview, you will receive a business scenario to analyze and develop a solution. The interview comprises a walk-through of your case as well as questions about your background and readiness for the EMBA program. While we prefer the case interview to be in-person, we can schedule via video conference for applicants outside of the greater New York City area.
4. References. Along with your resume, send us the name, job title and affiliated organization, email address, and phone number for two references. We will call your references (~15-minute call) or accept a letter of recommendation.
5. Class Visit. Students admitted to the EMBA program have the opportunity to attend a Sunday class to meet faculty and current students.

If you are ready to get started, send your resume or LinkedIn profile to Jared Hakimi, director of EMBA admissions. We look forward to working with you.
